Historical Studies

Subject Survey SS24.HS.SS

1 Describe how a selected historical subject is currently remembered or regarded, explaining how historical memory contributes to current thinking about the event. SS24.HS.1

- a Identify and explain examples of how the historical subject is currently represented. SS24.HS.1A
- b Explain factors that have influenced or shaped how the historical subject is viewed in modern day. SS24.HS.1B

2 Analyze secondary sources related to the selected topic in history. SS24.HS.2

- a Describe the strengths and limitations of different types of secondary sources for providing insight into the selected historical subject. SS24.HS.2A
- b Explain how a historian constructs a viewpoint on a historical subject. SS24.HS.2B
- c Apply the concept of historiography through contrasting how various historians have interpreted the historical subject. SS24.HS.2C

3 Explain how historic preservation has been or can be used to impact historical memory of the subject. SS24.HS.3

- a Describe different methods of historical preservation, and identify examples of these methods. SS24.HS.3A

Subject Research SS24.HS.SR

4 Locate and utilize a variety of primary sources related to the selected historical subject. SS24.HS.4

- a Describe methods for collecting primary source evidence. SS24.HS.4A
- b Compare and contrast the types of evidence provided by various primary sources. SS24.HS.4B
- c Describe the strengths and limitations of different types of primary sources for providing insight into the selected historical subject. SS24.HS.4C

5 Differentiate between primary and secondary sources on the subject and evaluate the quality of evidence each type yields. SS24.HS.5

6 Compare historical methods utilized for research and evaluate how these methods yield information regarding the selected historical subject. SS24.HS.6

Cu Pr

Skip to main content

onstruct and refine a research question to address an aspect of the subject that is ot well-known or has not been widely reported, basing the question on their examination of literature and historiography of the subject. SS24.HS.7

8 Utilize various historical methods to acquire information on the selected subject and relate findings to the research question created. SS24.HS.8

- a Compare historical evidence to previous interpretations and corroborate salient facts and theories. SS24.HS.8A

9 Present and defend the results of their interpretations and conclusions. SS24.HS.9

- a Describe ways in which public historians present history to audiences. SS24.HS.9A
- b Evaluate the effectiveness of different methods of presenting historical findings to an audience. SS24.HS.9B